ROBERTS HALL GETS A NEW LOOK

For all those who have been fearful of the danger of lead poisoning from the flaking paint in Roberts Hall auditorium (this applies especially to singers into whose open mouths these chips might fall), I bring good tidings: Roberts will be repainted during the winter vacation! The work should be ready for your admiration by the first day of classes in January. What color will it be? Any such questions (and maybe even color suggestions) should be relayed to the office of our new Physical Plant director.
