

Much Pep Displayed In First Class Games

Good Varsity Material Among Class Basketball Men.

Fresh Defeat Juniors in Extra Session.

Saturday night, before a large crowd, the Freshmen defeated the Juniors in a close and exciting game of basketball 20 to 13. The game was fast and hard played thruout but was marred somewhat by a large number of fouls on each side. The inability of both sides to cage these free shots made an extra five minutes of play necessary, as the score was 13-13 when time was called. By some pretty work, especially on the part of Denny, the Freshmen scored three field goals and one foul during this extra period, thereby putting the game on ice. For the Juniors, McAlister, at guard, did the best work. Askew and Craig played the entire floor and did some good passing. McAlister at guard also did good work. Denny at forward and Price at guard were the stars for the winning team.

Final score: Fresh 20, Juniors 13.

Juniors.	Position.	Fresh.
Askew	Forward	Denny
Craig	Forward	Ormand
Caldwell	Center	Cornelson
McAlister	Guard	Doubles
Chalmers (c)	Guard	Price (c)

Summary — Field goals: Askew 2, Craig 1, Chalmers 3, Denny 5, Ormand 1, Cornelson 1, Doubles 1. Foul goals: Chalmers 1 out of 9, Denny 2 out of 7, Ormand 2 out of 5, Doubles 0 out of 2. Substitution: Liston for Craig. Time of halves: 20 and 15. Extra period of 5 minutes. Referee: Mr. Miles; time-keeper, Fetzer; scorers, R. D. Hall and McCrary.

Sophs Upset the Dope.

On Monday night the Sophs and Senior basketball teams clashed. The game was fast and full of interest from beginning to end. The dope was all in favor of the Seniors, who had last year's team practically intact. They also played A. R. Craig, who starred on the team of Company "A" last fall. The Sophs who gave last year's champions such a close race had lost some of their best men. But contrary to the general opinion the Sophs proved the better team. They took the lead in the early part of the game and held it thruout the entire game, the final score being 26-18.

For the Sophomores, Ormond and Harrington did some splendid goal shooting. The field work of Harrington was also particularly good. The guarding of Brice was tight and effective. Schenck also played a good game. The stars for the Seniors were Davenport and Alexander. Craig also played up to his usual form and was with the ball during the whole game.

A feature of this year's games is the refereeing. Hitherto we have had to rely on picking up anybody, but now Mr. Miles, the Y man, who had played considerable basketball, is the able referee. His decisions have always been

Hapless Freshmen Are Initiated By Literary Societies

Eumeneans Unearth Old Eastern Custom

Darkness Follows Pooling Of Fresh- men Shoes.

The Eumenean Literary Society held its initiation of new members Saturday night. The event was full of pep and interest, and the initiates went thru a rigid test before their admission. Forty-three men qualified and were initiated into the rites of the society. Free airplane rides were given to a selected few, while others, impersonating all manner of beasts, paraded before the society with most realistic grunts and attitudes.

M. R. Doubles and Geo. Cornelson contested with A. C. Ormand and J. P. Price in a singing contest. The former lost and were called to contest Booth and Phillips in an "all-at-the-same-moment" singing duel. The vocal organs of both pair being in good condition, neither could out the other, and both were declared the winners. Next came a debate: Resolved, That a brown-eyed girl has a better disposition than a blue-eyed girl. D. K. Grille defended the affirmative and Summers the negative. Both showed surprising knowledge on the subject. The negative won mainly because it used specific instances to prove its points. Next was an oration by W. S. Scott on "Why I Joined the Eumenean Society." Naturally his reasons were excellent. Another debate followed: Resolved, That I am a better man than you are. Affirmative, O. M. Dugger; Negative, W. E. Gunn. Neither side could produce any argument, so the debate resulted in a draw. The next act was a unique speech in Japanese by R. R. McHwaine, which was enjoyed by the more cultured of the audience. W. P. Cumming, the original Jap from Japan, was acting critic, but found himself in deep water when attempting to keep up with the speaker.

A paper fight followed in which the contestants must have gotten hot, for they fanned only the air, despite their repeated attempts to hit their opponents. The fight furnished much amusement despite the fact that the contestants were blindfolded and limited to a small field for their manouvers.

All those who had not been engaged in the former contests were made to take off their shoes and pile them in a heap. Then the meeting was declared adjourned and the lights were turned out, leaving a mass of struggling humanity.

The following men joined the Eumenean Society:

S. H. Askew, G. N. Atkinson, J. C. Bailey, R. Bitzer, W. R. Booth, L. F. Boyd, B. D. Breithenhiert, A. E. Cellar, George Cornelson, S. P. Craig, C. E. Cunningham, Pitts Douglas, A. E. Drake, W. B. Dunlap, O. M. Dugger, M. R. Doubles, M. V. Dorgett, D. M. Gaston, J. M. Gilmer, D. K. Grille, W. E. Gunn, J. C. Hyland, R. J.

Blushing Freshmen Unveil Secret Love

"Who's Your Girl?" Was Phi's Imper- tinent Question.

After the usual opening exercises, Phi Society on last Saturday night, January 18, went into one of the most interesting and awe-inspiring of ceremonies; that of initiating new men into its numbers.

Four upperclassmen were administered the oath of membership before the Freshmen were admitted. These men were: H. A. Hill, J. K. Foster, T. H. Wilson and J. M. Gaston.

The doors were then thrown open both figuratively and literally, and he held a motley crew of brand new Freshmen marched in. Their faces were covered with smiles, grins and burnt cork; their coats were turned inside out and exposed an astonishing array of coat lining; shirt tails were exhibited unblushingly, and pants were pulled up to prevent a veritable panoply of green socks, purple garters and human legs of various tints of brown and chocolate.

After having been suddenly shouted at when the lights blinked on them, these men with nerves but slightly shaken were read the preamble to the constitution. They next gave sign by grunts, nods of the head, and sheepish expressions, their assent to the questions put to them by the president, and so became members of the Philanthropic Society.

But not all they were made to sign their names at the secretary's desk, and would you believe it? the names of their best girls also. Then, shocking as it may sound, 'tis true! they were required to stand up in answer to the reading aloud of the appellations or cognomens of their lady loves.

Following this the society inflicted upon itself the torture of having several of the "buds or future orators" sing. An execution of the manual of arms with a toothpick, and a test of nimbleness in exchanging hands from ears to nose and back again were enjoyed. But when one was called to represent the butler, while the "Gold-dust Twins" took the part of a young maiden and her gentleman caller, and the butler said, "Come in," to the knocking of the latter, it brought down the house. Then the young gentleman showed to all the proper way to encircle with a stout arm "the apple of one's eye."

A speech on goat feathers, a medley of song and an exposition of the vital need of the Peace Conference having a delegates from Phi Society met with approval. Then followed a debate on the query, "Resolved, That the Government should own and operate Chambers building." It was an undecided issue. The Freshmen were allowed to close with a chorus and its parody, the title being "Smiles."

The following Freshmen were ad-

Annual Staff Men Are Being Selected

Call For Cartoonists Has Been Issued.

All would be artists of the pen and the "annual usually kept in such an inclosure," viz: the book, well you understand, are encouraged to begin inscribing their words of wit or wisdom. Also anybody who ever drew a laughable cartoon is likely to be called upon to contribute of their skill to our Annual. We want to make this issue of "Quips and Cranks" come up to stand and form, and thus can be done only thru the concerted efforts of the whole gang. So come on and let's see if we can't put some real live stuff in this year. Forget about the mistakes you have made in drawing, and the hard time you've had in conceiving new ideas, and just see how much pep can be put into an article for the sake of "build long sym" or anybody else you choose to please.

A. E. Wilson, '20, was elected assistant manager by the student body, in place of G. D. Elliott, who has not returned. The other managers are S. M. Gilbert, H. B. Brown and W. E. Hall. Advertising patrons will soon have their names made known thru the agency of The Davidsonian, and the adores and his managers. Everybody should place their orders for extra Annuals with S. M. Gilbert or the other fellows mentioned. Selah.

MAKING THE MOST OF YOUR LIFE

On last Sunday evening the Ministerial Band had the good fortune of hearing "Bob" Miles, on the subject, "The Opportunity Before the Minister of Today." Beginning with the romance of the preacher's life, he showed why he is in position to get the most out of life. Also that present conditions make the task so great that it can only be met by real men, that the day of the long-faced, sanctimonious parson was past, it such had ever existed. Prayer life was given as the most necessary thing in the life of anyone, especially a perspective minister.

At the meeting of the Band on the coming Sunday an unusual program has been arranged with the subject: "Worldly Pleasures." Three men will discuss different phases of this topic and it is hoped that a large number will be present. Especially are those men who have chosen the ministry as a life work and who have not affiliated themselves with the Band urged to come out.

THE GENTLE GRAFTER.

If you are baldheaded and knock-kneed, and if you are fat and forty, and if some sweet thing around twenty-four remarks that she always liked baldheaded men anyhow, because they are so intelligent, and she likes to see 'em well-fed around the waist—well, sir, you just turn right around and say:

"Scuse me, miss, but how'd you know I've got an automobile?"—Ex.

PEP.

Pep is the god of Good Fortune, the Herald of Success, the Antidote to Defeat, the Main Spring for Conquerors.
Caesar had it when he crossed the Rubicon; Napoleon lost it on the field of Waterloo; Bill Hohenzollern lost it last November 11; some students imagine they have it when they break out window lights. It's that which is behind the use of lusty lungs, whether the team is winning or losing; it's that which makes a fellow give up his Sunday morning sleep for a Bible class; it's that which makes a fellow gladly "lend a hand" where it is needed for the good of the college; it's that which makes a fellow keep driving in the game, altho he is completely exhausted; it's that which brings the grin and has nothing in common with the grouch.

PEP is FREE; use it on all occasions;
before big games; during big games;
after big games; in your room; on the campus; at home. Make you life full of pep.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT.

The number of gold stars on the Davidson College service flag is sixteen.
Now that the war is over, and we turn to more peaceful pursuits, there naturally occurs to many that there should be some fitting memorial set up on the campus to these sixteen. It is something which should not be done hastily, as it should carry with it the deepest consideration and esteem of all concerned. But it should be brought before students and alumni alike and made subject to their thoughts and ideas. We hope some action can be taken on this before the end of the year.

PUBLIC OPINION.

There are some things which public opinion alone can regulate, and one of these is the habit of "swiping" light globes from public places, and of "borrowing" articles belonging to some one else and never returning them. It cannot be denied that public opinion makes no organized protest against this. Somehow things have become so twisted that such acts are not looked upon by many as thefts. It would be interesting to see how they argue their point. When a remover of light globes begins to lose something of his own, possibly he will start going to Mr. Hill and start paying a hard forty-five cents for his lights.

Another thing which will require public opinion to eliminate is the habit of cutting pieces here and there out of publications in the reading room. Looking it point blank in the face, it is taking something which does not belong to the clippings; and, too, it is not very courteous after requests have been made frequently to the contrary. Again, it is unfair to others, as everyone has an equal right to enjoy all the reading room literature.

How long will it be before the student body loses patience with these practices and stamps them out?

A FINE RECORD.

The present Freshman class has made a record for itself that it may well be proud of. No class for years has turn-ished such a large number, and probably no better quality, of men for the two Literary Societies than the class of '22 has done. Who knows but what it is the work of this class to give the societies their long looked for regeneration? In any case a heavy responsibility rests upon the new society men, and it remains to be seen whether they will respond. The war has diminished the number of upperclassmen in the societies by at least fifty per cent. It won't be long before most of the society duties will rest upon the shoulders of the new men, and it is up to them to begin a new era, building the two organizations up to their former place of influence and service on the campus.

You will find upperclassmen in the societies, who do no work, and who actually do harm by their indifference or talk; but do not judge these organizations by such men, and above all things don't think you are supposed to copy them. Many a man never pretends to prepare a speech, cuts up foolishness most of the time, and then says the society is no good, because he hasn't learned how to speak. No one can get more out of the society than he puts into
it. That's an established fact.

This spring there will be a number of contests. Go into every one of them.
Don't get the idea that the only reason for entering a contest is to win a medal, because it's not. Work up loyalty for your Literary Society and actively support it. Don't sit by and merely watch it drift along. Freshmen, it rests with you. What are you going to do about it?

NOTICE.

All interested are requested to read this notice carefully: All men, but especially the new men, who have had any experience whatever on their high school papers, or who have had no experience but wish to do literary work by writing for The Davidsonian, are earnestly requested to meet in Dr. J. M. McConnell's class room, in Shearer Hall, at 7 o'clock sharp tonight (Wednesday).
The meeting will not be long and you will be under no obligations by coming.
All reporters are urged to be present.
Don't forget the time—seven sharp.

SPANN PILOTS JUNIORS.

At a class meeting on Monday morning the Juniors elected the following officers to serve the rest of the college year: Henry Spann as president; James Witherspoon, vice-president; A. Foscoe, secretary and treasurer, and Chalmers, Calhoun and ——— as student counselmen.

With this band of men in control, the class of '20 will no doubt continue to hold the place it should on the campus of Davidson.

The Date of Junior Speaking was also decided upon, being March 7-8-9.
The war's over now, so what about those old good times on the campus.
Get your "bids" ready!

Who's Going to Win The New Track Trophy?

L. Richardson ex'14 Presents Loving Cup to College.

A beautiful loving cup has recently been presented to the college as a class track trophy by L. Richardson, Jr., ex'14. The cup is of simple design but rare quality. It was obtained at Tiffany & Company, New York, and carries on one side the inscription, "Track Team Trophy. Presented to the Students of Davidson College by Lunsford Richardson, Jr., Class 1914." On the reverse side of the cup are the letters "D. C." in script, with the word "Record" below, and space left for the records each year. The cup is now on display upstairs in the Library.

Richardson enlisted in the Navy a year ago. He was first stationed at Nortolk and was later transferred to the Naval Aviation Department of the Great Lakes Training Camp. He was then detailed to special training at Columbia. He secured his release at the signing of the armistice.

HEARD ON THE HILL.

Date of Commencement.

It is hoped that with the definite announcement of the date for commencement those students who have been worrying lest college should have to run on into the summer will rest more easily.
This year's commencement exercises will take place from May 25 to 28, inclusive. Other details concerning the program will be given later.

Flu Has Flown.

All danger of a renewed epidemic of "flu" seems to have passed away. To be truthful, there have been scattered cases of the disease, four in all, since Christmas. These have been mild, however, and were evidently contracted during the Christmas holidays. Mrs. Robson now has only one patient, and it is hoped that he will be out again this week.

Dr. Withers also reports that the disease seems to be on the decline in the town itself. At present there are only two or three known cases among the town's people.

F. G. Heath, ex'21, in naval uniform, visited his alma mater last week.
Fortunately for Freshmen, his visit was brief.

Battling "OX" Harrel, formerly of the "Alley," came in on Wednesday of last week.

"Babe" Sherrill has returned to college. He has been in the Army Chemical Corps.

The Russian rifles, the last reminders of the S. A. T. C., have been shipped to an arsenal in Georgia. Incidentally ex-Private Sam Brady no longer spends all Friday night preparing his piece for Saturday inspection. Freshman Gunn returned on the same day.

V. G. Grantham has been called home on account of the illness of his brother.

J. W. McAllister, ex'10, and C. W.
Angle, '18, spent a few hours on the Hill last Monday.

C. H. Wilson, '10, returned to college on Monday. He recently received his discharge from the Marine Corps.

Miss Eloise Martin spent the weekend at home, bringing with her Misses Eunice Blue and Hellen Reagan, from Queens.

M. A. Thompson, ex-'20, who was wounded in the gallant charge of the Marines at Chateau Thierry and afterwards recounted this stirring charge before the Davidson S. A. T. C. unit in September, is now in Boston receiving treatment from a nerve specialist in the hope of regaining use of his arm. He is pursuing some studies at Harvard University, and hopes to come back and finish with his class. He writes: "Maybe if I do not have to spend too much time in the hospital I can join my old class yet."

Corporal J. N. Hillhouse, ex-'13, is completing eighteen months of service overseas in the photographic laboratory of the Signal Corps. He writes from Paris: "We hope to get through our photographic work by next spring and go home. But we are busy now with all the Kings and Presidents and things coming into Paris almost daily."

LETTER TO ALUMNI

To the Alumni:

The annual fee of $100 for Davidson's membership in the American University Union is now due and all interested alumni are requested to forward to Prof. A. Currie or myself their contribution to this fund. Several weeks ago a letter was sent to the alumni who contributed last year to our membership in the union, but up to date only three have responded. Please let us have good contributions as soon as convenient. Remember that the services of the Union as a meeting place and rest center for Davidson men when they go to Paris is more needed at this time than when the war was actually going on. We received numerous letters last year telling how much pleasure our alumni got out of the Union. Let us continue our membership. We need $60 by next mail. Can't you write us a check for $5.00, or maybe $10.00?

Thanking you, I am

Sincerely,
J. M. McCONNELL.

C.

These photographs are requested for incorporation in the permanent pictorial files, which will serve as the official photographic record and history of the war.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS.

A man can't sell his house without his wife's consent.

He must pay her bills, whatever they may be, or for what.

If he deserts her she can haul him back into jail.

If she deserts him, he takes his medicine, saith the law.

If he jilts his sweetheart, she can get him for breach of promise.

If she deserts her lover, he gets the horse-laugh and snicker.

If he whips her, he gets the post; if she hits him with a skillet, the reporters write it humorously.

If he dies, she gets his estate; if she dies, he gets the funeral bill and her mother.

And still women keep kicking about having some rights!—Ex.

THE PRESIDENT'S WELCOME ABROAD.

Every American, whatever his political affiliations, should be proud of the way in which Mr. Wilson has thus far carried himself in Europe and of the depth and genuineness of the popular demonstrations in his honor. His speeches, pertinent to the various occasions on which they were delivered, have not only been phrased in the faultless English of which he is a master, but they have throbbled with genuine appreciation of the warmth of feeling felt for America by those who greeted him. They have rung true to the great ideals which he had already set forth in the state papers that had prepared the way for his coming.

It is worth something at this juncture in human affairs to have the head of the most powerful nation on earth going from land to land and speaking words such as these: "There is only one thing that can bind peoples together and that is common devotion to the right." "Back of us is that imperative yearning of the world to have all disturbing questions quieted, to have all threats against peace silenced, to have just men come together everywhere for a common object." "Friendship is not a mere sentiment. Patriotism is not a mere sentiment. It is based upon a principle, upon the principle that leads a man to give more than he demands." "I believe as this war has drawn nations temporarily together in a combination of physical force, we shall now be drawn together in a combination of moral force that is irresistible. It is moral force as much as physical force that has defeated the effort to subdue the world. Words have cut as deep as swords."

The soil of both America and Europe is fallow for the dropping of seedlike thoughts like these. The man who sows them may come short of applying perfectly the principles involved to all the problems, domestic and foreign, with which he has to do. He may not always act with absolute consistency. But the world respects and honors a man who sets forth in intelligible and appealing language the great new objectives toward which the nations must move if our civilization is ever to become really Christian. That is why the throngs acclaim Mr. Wilson as he passes up the Champs Elysees and along Pall Mall and through the streets of Manchester and Carlisle. They see in him something more than a graceful and polished orator, an eminent scholar and teacher, and a keen, alert American; they see in Mr. Wilson a man who was able to bring Americans of varying shades of opinion into the war practically as one mighty unit. They see also in him one whose eyes were never so fixed upon the absolute necessity of a conclusive victory that he could not see and consecrate himself and his fellow countrymen to the tasks of reconstruction.

It looks now as if his Scotch shrewdness had served Mr. Wilson well in going first to France and then to England. Had he gone first to the latter country and perfected his understanding with Lloyd George, he might have been accused of trying to overweight the conference with English and American influence, whereas by going first to the Continent, he has shown an equal readiness to hear what the leaders of French and Italian opinion have to say on the mooted question. It is from them rather than from Lloyd George that opposition is likely to come to Mr. Wilson's belief that all nations should be included in the league and that the formation of such a league should be one of the early and major concerns of the peace conference.

But we do not expect to see dissension at the peace table over the essential items in Mr. Wilson's program. He, as well as others, must be conciliatory and open-minded. The plain people in the lands which the commissioners represent desire not only the consummation of a just and enduring peace, but the substitution of a new international order for the old time balance of power.

We expect such an outcome from the Paris conference and when it comes, we trust that the reactionary elements in the American Senate will find it prudent to fall in with the desires of forward-looking people the world over. It was the Senate of the United States which, by rejecting the treaties which John Hay so carefully formulated, sent one of the noblest Secretaries of State which America has ever had into his later years with a disappointed and sorrowing heart. We do not believe any such fate is in store for President Wilson, Congressionalist.

THE COLLEGE SPORT.

A stranger on any college campus will behold a certain species roaming at large, which, at first glance, is often taken for a picture, but if more closely examined will reveal life.

This particular individual may be described as follows: Latest style hat, form fitting suit and overcoat, cigarette in one corner of the mouth, and usually conspicuous horn rimmed glasses on his nose. He is found in every college and university, and he is as liable to be a senior as a freshman, the only difference between the more advanced college sport and the new one being that the former is beyond any last hope of redemption.

He is entirely devoid of any college spirit, or any desire to mingle with the "common herd" of students who are doing things in school athletics, politics, or any other activities, not to speak of studies.

This noble man of ease is the college sport, and his bearing and attitude often inspire the casual observer to seize a plank and put him on the head. Ex.

INCONSISTENCY.

When a maiden is young and you call her a kitten,

She smiles at that;

But a few years later, is she tickled to death when you

Call her a cat? Ex.

THE JEWELRY GIRL.

She has ruby lips, eyes that shine like diamonds, pearly teeth and an emerald disposition.

And her head—Ah! her head is the rarest ivory! Ex.

RIGHT AGAIN.

Said the plumber to the iceman, in August: "You robber!"

Said the iceman to the plumber, in January: "You thief!"

Said the public: "Gentlemen, we agree with you both!" Ex.

Sergeant (drilling awkward squad): "Company! Attention company, lift up your left leg and hold it straight out in front of you!" One of the squad held up his right leg by mistake. This brought his right hand companion's left leg and his own right leg close together. The officer, seeing this, exclaimed angrily, "And who is that fellow over there holding up both legs?"—Chicago News.

"There we stood, the tiger and myself, in the thick of the jungle, face to face!" "O Major, how perfectly frightful it must have been for both of you!"—Passing Show.

THIS IS A MAN'S PRAYER.

Teach me that sixty minutes makes an hour, sixteen ounces one pound and 100 cents $1.

Help me to live so that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience, without a gun under my pillow and un-haunted by the faces of those to whom I have brought pain.

Grant, I beseech Thee, that I may earn my meal ticket on the square, and in doing thereof that I may not stick the gaff where it does not belong.

Deafen me to the jingle of tainted money and the rustle of unholy skirts. Blind me to the faults of the other fellow, but reveal to me my own.

Guide me so that each night when I look across the dinner table at my wife, who has been a blessing to me, I shall have nothing to conceal.

Keep me young enough to laugh with my children and to lose myself in their play.

And then, when comes the smell of flowers, and the tread of soft steps, and the crushing of the hearse's wheels in the gravel out in front of my place, make the ceremony short and epitaph simple:

"Here lies a man!"—4Ex.

POPULAR SUPERSTITIONS.

Water that boils up quickly in the kettle is a sign of rain.

If a crow croaks an odd number of times in the morning it will be a wet day; if an even number of times it will be fair.

A red sky at night is commonly said to be a sign of fair weather on the morrow, while a red sky in the morning is considered a sign of bad weather. The old hymn says:

"Red sky at night, sailors delight;
 Red sky in the morning, sailors take warning."

In New England they say "open and shet, sign of wet," "open and shet" meaning the opening and shutting together of the clouds.

Another New England saying is, "If it rains before seven it will clear before eleven."

In uncertain or threatening weather it is said that if you can see a piece of blue sky large enough to make a Dutchman a pair of trousers it will be clear.

A ring around the moon signifies rain. If there are stars inside the ring, the number of stars denotes the number of days before the storm.

Three foggy mornings mean a rain. A yellow sky at sunset foretells a wind-storm.—Ex.

GOOD NAME.

I used to think good nature paid,
 But now I have some doubt,
 When I perceive the progress made
 By kickers all about.

The folks who say, "Oh, let it go!
 It isn't worth a fight,"
 Are, as a rule, statistics show,
 Not treated wholly right.

All men detest the kicker's ways
 And blame him for his moods.
 Oh, yes, good nature gets the praise,
 But kicking gets the goods.
 —H. G. Doty, in New York Times.

THE REASON.

"I haven't slept any for days."
 "Smatter, sick?"
 "No, I sleep at night."—Ex.

The Friendly Spirit On Davidson Campus

"Who Is My Neighbor?" Subject At Weekly "Y" Meeting.

In his talk before the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon, Mr. Miles chose as his subject, "Who Is My Neighbor?" "This Parable of the Good Samaritan, so well known to us all," said Mr. Miles in beginning, "is so often forgotten." "And this question, 'Who is my neighbor,' is," declared the speaker, "one that concerns us much." As a specific instance he pointed out how unneighborliness among the peoples of Europe had resulted in the big European war. Serbia, Bulgaria, Montenegro, Greece, and Turkey, all hated each other. Russia hated Austria, and Austria hated Serbia. France hated Germany. These countries did not look upon the peoples of foreign states as their neighbors. Today a great Peace Congress sits in France to determine "Who is my neighbor" and what action should be taken towards him.

Mr. Miles said that if the teachings of Jesus be summarized, it might be called "How to die," and that the method would be called "Love." Christ commanded, "Love thy neighbor as thyself." Mr. Miles declared that the capitalized personal pronoun "I" must be transformed into the personal pronoun "You." "And," he continued, "every man on Davidson campus is your neighbor." It behooves all to make it a point to be friendly. It is a thing we owe to the other fellow. My neighbor on Davidson campus is not strictly the fellow in my fraternity, or my literary society, but every man here," he said. Mr. Miles pointed out several ways in which neighborliness might be shown.

In the first place, "Speak to every man on the campus." Mr. Miles said that this has always been a splendid custom at Davidson. It means much to say just a word of greeting as you pass a fellow on the college walks.

Again, upperclassmen should treat the Freshmen in that spirit. "As we would that others should do to you." The upperclassmen can each recall the friendly acts or words of some older fellow by whom they happened to be befriended their first year. The Freshman is human, and appreciates kindness. The upperclassman owes it to the Freshman.

Mr. Miles closed with a plea for greater friendliness and co-operation among the fellows on the campus. "Be loyal to your college first, then loyal to the literary society, fraternities and class. Have the spirit of friendliness," he said.

ONLY ONE DEBATING TEAM THIS SPRING

At a meeting of the Debating Council last week, after due consideration, it was decided to put out only one Inter-collegiate Debating Team this year, provided a suitable debate could be arranged. Immediate steps have been taken to this effect, and it is hoped that a contract may be duly signed in the near future. A list of the society contests will be published within the next week or so.

IT HAS BEEN SAID THAT:

Liston will not keep his mouth shut.
That Spense talks also.
That Pebble Stone ditto.
That Tremain smoked a cigarette.
That R. O. T. C. would begin soon.
That Charlie Hall tried to grow a mustache.
That Sanderson got a hair cut.
That Bitzer does not blow the bugle.
That Fricker does not eat anything.

That the Davidson College Magazine will not appear.

That the Annual will.

That Jim Witherspoon takes Greek VI.

That "Red" Smith has more grit than Jim Boulware.

MARGARITE CLARK AND ALICE JOYCE VISIT Y BLDG.

The movies have come to Davidson, and come to stay. Tuesday, the 14th, the gymnasium was filled with a happy crowd, gathered to see the first show. As the pictures appeared upon the screen shouts and laughter rent the air. "The Hunchback" and "Gallegher" were much appreciated. In the intervals between reels A. P. Ormond rendered several selections upon the piano. On Thursday night "The Amazons," with Margerite Clarke, scored a tremendous hit. The picture was full of "dramatic" situations which were applauded enthusiastically. Two more enjoyable shows were given on Saturday and Tuesday, one of which featured Alice Joyce.

At the first show, the operators had a little trouble with the machine. However, the house was expecting some trouble, and it did not lessen their enjoyment. Experience brought wisdom, and Rogers, '22, and Bernau, '21, succeeded in putting "The Amazons" across with only one accident! They put the third reel in backwards, and when the writing appeared, a howl arose. The operators are improving. And, before you know it, the movies here will be as good as any in the State, and the best part, is that they are free to all.

After the first of February the movies will be on Tuesday and Saturday nights. On Tuesdays the hour is 6:45; on Saturdays, 8:30. Of course if a basketball game is scheduled for Saturday night the movie hour will be changed. This will probably be necessary only two or three times in the whole year. In the meantime, before February, the show will be held Tuesday and Friday at 6:45 p. m. Mr. Miles expects to follow the above schedule as far as possible.

B. E. Shields and W. M. Scott, at piano and drum, add much to the enjoyment of the pictures by their stirring music.

DAVIDSON SOCIAL ITEMS.

Miss Eloise Martin, of Queens College, had as her house guests for the week-end, Miss Helen Ragan, of Gastonia, and Miss Eunice Blue, of Rayford, N. C.

Mrs. Addison Brenizer and little son, Addison, Jr., have been guests of Dr. and Mrs. Martin for the past week.

Rev. Mr. Ormond, who has just returned from overseas, where he has been engaged in "Y" service, lectured to the Book Club, Friday afternoon. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. M. McConnell, and a good attendance was there to hear him.

Miss Elizabeth Grey, who attended Peace Institute, Raleigh, N. C., last fall, will not return for the spring term. She will continue her studies at home.

Miss Mildred Johnston, who has been teaching in Shelby, N. C., this year, will be at home until February 1, on account of the "flu" quarantine at that place.

Miss Orrie Steele spent the week end at her home in Rock Hill.

Mrs. H. B. Arbuckle, who has been suffering with rheumatism since the holidays, is much improved.

Misses Mary Matthews, Dorothy Dawson and Mildred Smith were guests of the Bachelors on Monday evening.

FIVE SUNDAY SCHOOLS TAUGHT BY STUDENTS

The mission Sunday schools of the Davidson Y. M. C. A. are to be reopened as soon as the "flu" situation will permit. At present the health authorities will not allow any large gatherings. All plans for the work have already been made.

Some of these Sunday Schools have their own superintendents. For these the Y. M. C. A. appoints a leader to help with the work. For others it appoints a superintendent. The schools with their leaders or superintendents are as follows: Cowan's School House—E. A. Woods, superintendent; Oak Grove—O. P. Hart, superintendent; Shearer Chapel—A. M. Mitchell, leader; Brawley's—E. Flinn, superintendent; Cornelius—W. B. Sullivan, leader; Caldwell—S. H. Askew, superintendent.

Another Sunday school is to be organized in the mill with D. W. Roberts as leader under the supervision of Messrs. F. L. Jackson and "Bob" Miles.

The following space is lovingly dedicated to the Reporters and Staff men who show so much interest in their Davidsonian work that they completely forget about their assignments or else hand in articles that have to be re-written entirely:

If the cap fits, put it on!

Lieut. T. B. McCormick has received his discharge and has returned to North Carolina A. and E. to resume his studies.

INTEREST INCREASES IN BIBLE CLASSES

The Bible classes conducted by the "Y" have struck a popular note on the campus and in spite of that tired feeling "of the morning after the night before," the fellows continue to increase the number of each class.

Last week Rumble led the campus by having seventy-three per cent of her supporters in Bible classes. South wing Chambers came second with fifty-one per cent, with Watts close at her heels, being represented by forty-eight per cent. Then came North wing Chambers with thirty-one per cent, and straggling way behind was Georgia with only twenty-two per cent. Who will lead next week?

With the spirit that has been shown already there is no doubt that these classes will increase in popularity and the motto "Have you joined?" will be no longer necessary.
